Profile

I am an enthusiastic and hard working Industrial Design student, currently enrolled at Brunel University. My take on design is strongly geared around the user and how they could interact with the product.

Skills Profile

- Problem Solving- I tend to take a practical approach to problem solving. When I am to determine the issue and then find a way that it can be mended.
- Teamwork- Constructive team member that is conscious that everyone's contribution is essential.
- Creativity- Good eye for design, and show appreciation of both the aesthetics and function of a product. I also enjoy going through the design process of a product.

Projects

James Dyson Foundation- To develop a solution to a problem around the theme of disaster relief in the UK caused by climate change.

Marks & Spencers- To design a stocking filler at the price range of £1 to £10. The focus should be on simplicity and fun for both the recipient and purchaser.

Lighting Education Trust- Design a luminaire that can be placed in a retail or museum.

Buliding Trust International- To design living quarters for migrant workers within Singapore. The space must be hospitable for 8 workers in a area of 20 metres squared (floor) 4 metres high.
